Dear Industry Partner,

As the Pacific Northwest Vascular Society prepares to celebrate our 2019 Annual Meeting, we are writing to encourage you to explore the benefits of sponsorship. Our unique network brings forth an opportunity to create connections with a vast membership of vascular surgeons from both USA and Canada. Based on our strong cast of membership, Pacific Northwest Vascular Society offers its sponsors the very best in networking and fellowship. Our program is confident in presenting the latest clinical and basic science research from the leading academic and community surgeons spanning the entire PNW region.

This year’s meeting will take place on October 10-11, 2019 at the exquisite JW Parq Marriott hotel in Vancouver, BC. President Dr. Nam Tran promises an exciting program including a guest lecture with David Dawson from Baylor Smith and White Clinic in Temple Texas.

Exhibit sponsorship includes sponsor acknowledgment in the event program as well as prominent signage. Your team will also secure a spot in our exhibit hall along with registration for 2 company representatives. Attendees will be highly encouraged to meet and greet with your team for opportunities to win prizes and gain a greater understanding of what the industry has to offer. We would be delighted to host your team for this grand opportunity to come together and share new ideas with leading professionals of vascular surgery and research.

Current sponsors have used their society connections to stay current with the latest advances in vascular surgery research, connect with future minds in the field, and build rapport with the current experts in vascular surgery. To ensure you don’t miss out on these fantastic opportunities, please go to our website at: www.pacificnwvascular.org.

If you have any questions about this year’s Pacific Northwest Vascular Society Meeting, please do not hesitate to contact our Industry Liaison, Mandisa Marks, at 812-340-6285. Thank you for your consideration as support of the meeting – we look forward to working with you towards the success of this educational program.
